CONFERENCE MAKING PROGRESS

PRESIDENT WILSON AND EUROPEAN PREMIERS
MUCH ENCOURAGED

HOPE TO FINISH BY SATURDAY

Settle Austrian Problem Sometime Next Week, is Program Now.

By John Edwin Nevin:
Correspondent of the International
News Service:

Paris, April 2.—Substantial progress is now being made by the "Big Four" following the breaking of the deadlock.

President Wilson and the European premiers meeting with him are greatly encouraged.

While the situation is still critical all the conference are impressed with the absolute necessity of completing the word without any further delay.

France of Get Minerals.
It is now understood that an agreement has been reached by which France will get the mineral products of the Rhine basin, while Germany will retain sovereignty of the territory.

Furthermore substantial progress has been made in the discussions of the Rhine question.

German fortifications on the Rhine will be demolished but Germany will be allowed to keep the land on which they stand.

The size of the indemnities claimed from Germany has been cut down also.

Hope to Quit Saturday.

It is hoped to complete all the work in relation to the first peace treaty by Saturday and settle the Austrian problem next week. Then the allies will be ready to invite the representatives of the central powers to France to sign up.

It is believed that there will be upwards of 200 enemy representatives here when the final negotiations are begun.

The allies and the associated powers have authorized the restoration of the freedom of trade with Poland, Estonia and German Austria. In fact, freedom of trade has now been established with all nations except Russia, Germany and Hungary.

Restrictions have been laid down regarding German Austria prohibiting the shipment of military articles into the country.

An international trade commission has been sent to Vienna to see that there is no re-shipment of goods into Germany.

The foreign council has decided that it will not be necessary for the report of the commission on international labor legislation to be ratified by a plenary session of the peace conference. The labor measures will be ratified by the various nations involved.

Texas City Given Data
On Good Roads Campaign

Information on the way the good roads campaign was conducted here has been furnished our request to officials at Marshall, Texas, by the local Chamber of Commerce.

It is evident from this that Rock county's campaign for concrete highways has attracted attention from many sections of the country.

Automobiles Kept Busy.

Automobiles, telephones, impromptu messenger service, corner posts, and the w. k. feminine lingo talent were kept on the rush the living day. In the early morning hours confidence was felt that the women were going "over." The extent of the leap had been anticipated or scarcely dreamed of by the women workers behind the women workers.

Third ward had considered 300 women a good estimate. Instead 573 turned out. Third ward led the others with 216 women voters. First ward was second with a total of 357; Fourth came next with 330; Second listed 221;
and Fifth 115.

The women who have been working on the election feminine turn-out for the past 10 days or so were gratified with results. They did not lessen their efforts when the day opened with bright prospects. They watched, counted, checked, sized up the ones coming out. Then they got after the telephones again, stirring up the rest of the city.

COUNT MICHAEL KAROLYI

Count Michael Karolyi, former president of Hungary, has been arrested by the reds and is likely to be one of their first victims. His arrest by the soviets surprises European observers in view of the generally accepted report that he had voluntarily surrendered the government to the reds in revenge for the allies' failure to give material aid to Hungary.

Good Roads Majority—4,854.

One of the biggest surprises of election day was the overwhelming majority given the concrete road bond issue. With but nine precincts registering majorities against, the issue carried by 4,854 votes, or a ballot of nearly three to one. The final figures were:

The nine precincts turning in negative majorities on the question were: Avon, Center, Harmony, Johnstown, La Prairie, Lima, Magnolia, Milton, and Rock.

Every city in the county turned in heavy totals in favor of the issue. Beloit sprang the surprise of the election when it turned in a 2,391 majority in favor of the bonds. It had been feared by campaign men that an eleventh hour rally of the opposition in Beloit might defeat the issue.

Janesville's majority in favor of the bonds was 1,549. Evansville gave the strongest support to the project, turning in a vote of 304 "Yes" and 74 "No."

The issue carried in Edgerton by 255 votes. Clinton, Footville, Milton, and Orfordville villages totals helps to boost the final figures.

The first returns of the bond issue were telephoned in from the town of Bradford, 94 for and 15 against. With this an indication of what might be expected from the country precincts the passage of the issue seemed almost assured, as the only strong opponents had been found in these districts.

The carrying of the question means that 180 miles of concrete highway can be built in the county as soon as possible; probably the entire mileage will be completed in 5 years. County Highway Commissioner Moore states that plans to build the entire Beloit-Janesville road this year.

County Highway Commissioner C. E. Moore issued a statement this morning heartily thanking those who cooperated in the campaign. He strongly favors keeping the Rock County Good Roads association an active organization. Praise for the newspapers of the county was given in his statement, which follows:

"The victory of the bond issue for the carrying of the project, turning in a vote of 304 "Yes" and 74 "No."

that the race would be close, far closer than expected for a week previously.

Budget Wins First

Biggest interest in the race for council seats fell upon the first and fourth wards.

The big question was in the first with Edwin L. Badger out of re-election and four others vying for the same seat. Badger was returned by a majority of 1,000 votes over his nearest opponent, Fred Gramke. Theodore Hilt was third with 79 balloons, Geo. Frank Praufelder fourth with 58 and William P. Malone, a poor trumper with 19.

Hilt Defeats Bellharz

In the fourth ward William J. Hilt sprung a big surprise when he defeated Fred H. Bellharz. Hilt drew 351 balloons against 299 for Bellharz, a majority of 51.

The erstwhile Fox Hall district saw one of the hardest fights of its history. The campaigns of the two candidates were entirely different. Hilt flooded his ward and the business district with his policy block on water and today claims his written stand was his winner. He had a great number of enthusiastic backers and so did Bellharz and they canvassed and canvassed the ward in the interest of their man.

Firth Downs Jones

The fifth ward turned down its present alderman, Arthur G. Jones, and placed Edwin P. Kelly, building contractor, in his seat. Jones was for gone concluded that Jones would be ousted but not by the large vote which Mr. Kelly received. The alderman-elect was elected by 111 votes, his grand total being 227 against 116 for Jones.

Kerstel in Second

Second Ward voters expressed confidence in Louis C. Kerstel, laundry and dry cleaning establishment owner, and returned him to his seat.

Mr. Kerstel was opposed by J. C. Osborn and received from the circle of municipal "friends" by 231 votes, 244 more than were received by Osborn, who polled but 87.

Results in the second ward were no surprise as it was freely predicted that the present alderman would be reelected.

Over in the third ward Ensign H. Ransom, incumbent, was reelected without opposition. Mr. Ransom polled 565 votes.

Victor E. Henning, city clerk, Jesse A. L. School commissioner at large and Justice of Peace Charles H. Lange without opposition, were returned to their respective offices.

The new council will officially assume office on the third Tuesday of this month, the 15th. It is expected that a record crowd will be in attendance.

PUT THIS IN THE DRINKING WATER

Most people lose hold of every batch and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this disease.

An Avicel tablet, placed in the drinking water, will positively save your little chicks from all such diseases. Inside of 48 hours the sick ones will be as lively as the healthy. Avicel will keep them healthy and make them grow and develop more rapidly.

Mrs. Wm. May, Rego, Ind., writes: "I was losing 10 or 15 chicks a day from diarrhea before I tried the Avicel. I haven't lost one since."

It costs nothing to try Avicel. If you don't find that it prevents and promptly cures white diarrhea, chick cholera and all other diseases, Avicel is worthless and your money will be refunded by return mail. Avicel is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or you can send 25¢ or 50¢ today for package by mail postpaid. Avicel-Del Co., 219 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Chicago, April 2.—Approximately this is how runs the refrain in a popular song and it goes. You can't talk to a cow. Therefore the morning coffee and rolls may be held up on account of milk arriving late in Chicago from the rural districts.

This is due to the daylight saving time, which shoves the clock an hour ahead. The farmers have changed their hours, but the cows haven't. As a result the Burlington milk train which left Aurora at 7:15 a. m. old time and arrived in Chicago at 9:55, will leave at 8:10 new time and arrive in Chicago 10:55 a. m., as announced yesterday.

STRIKE OF HIGH SCHOOL
STUDENTS IS AVERTED
BY VICTORY FOR BONDS

(By JIMMY SHERIDAN)

A strike of high school students to day was averted by the passing of the school bond issue.

Last week under the direction of leaders from all classes place had been made whereby the major portion of the school would walk out on Wednesday morning, provided the issue was not passed.

Posters were placed throughout the school, issuing a call to all loyal students to rally to the cause of the strikers. A petition was circulated and a large number of pupils signed their intention of striking by signing it.

However, as the bond issue passed by a large majority the students showed their appreciation of the voters last night by gathering in front of the Gazette office and giving school yell while doing a snake dance in the street.

WILL LET CONTRACT
FOR BRIDGE TONIGHT

A special meeting of the board of public works to let the contract for the building of the Jackson street bridge will be held tonight at the city hall at 7:15 p. m. Indications are that the contract for the structure would be let to the Wausau Iron Works of Wausau, Wls., the lowest bidders on the bridge. Numerous letters recommending the firm from the northern city have been received by City Clerk Hinman.

Confidence Man Guilty;
Given Six Months' Term

Jo Balsey held for operating a confidence game which resulted in the theft of two suit cases from Harry Green, entered a plea of guilty in Municipal court yesterday afternoon and was given a sentence of six months in the county jail. Balsey stayed there but a short while, as demands on Sheriff Beley for commutation law prisoners is always heavy.

This is due to the daylight saving time, which shoves the clock an hour ahead. The farmers have changed their hours, but the cows haven't. As a result the Burlington milk train which left Aurora at 7:15 a. m. old time and arrived in Chicago at 9:55, will leave at 8:10 new time and arrive in Chicago 10:55 a. m., as announced yesterday.

The railroads, wagon roads, orchards, streams, and where everyone lives are distinctly marked on the map. Pink ribbon ribbons and no ribbons at all are used in decorations. The maps are in the large part drawn according to definite rulings sent out by the county superintendent.

Credit is given for the work on the final examinations in geography, history and agriculture. The maps were all due yesterday. The best will be exhibited at the county fair.

The Gazette Stands Ready to Support all Endeavor to Make Janesville and Vicinity a Bigger and Better Community.

OUT OF THE MUD.

Rock county has taken the first tug to lift herself out of the mud. By an overwhelming endorsement, her citizens voted in favor of 100 miles of concrete roads by making possible a bond issue which will provide $1,500,000 for construction.

The victory is so decisive that there is no question in the minds of any one but that our people are foresighted and progressive. Through the action of those who favored the bond issue, Rock county has not only voted to improve her opportunities but she has placed herself in a proud position in the state and in the nation. She will be ranked as one of the pioneers in the movement to extend economical and serviceable highways throughout Wisconsin and eventually in the nation.

Those who voted for good roads did it with a community spirit, showing that the decision was not left entirely to those who would receive direct benefit by having trunk lines pass their property. To the men who live on these trunk lines and who voted for better roads must be given much credit for the victory. They not only labored themselves as unselfish in their desire to aid in the benefit of the whole community, but they showed that they could see the good which will come when the primary road system is finished and attention can be directed to the secondary roads. In fact they showed themselves to be keen business men.

The whole proposition revolved around an economical question. With good roads, those who use them will save dollars. To build the roads they are willing to borrow the money and pay interest. But they were secure in the knowledge that highways open for traffic at all times is an investment which will bring handsome returns. Coming at this time when the entire nation is pushing those reconstruction projects which make for a more prosperous era, Rock county can feel great pride in her achievement.

Congratulations are to be offered to the men who gave their time and energy to the campaign. When the writer was first bronzed in the Gazette several weeks ago, the fear was expressed that a campaign could not be successfully carried in the short time before election. When a movement was started to sound the members of the county board of supervisors and it was found that a majority of them was in favor of the plan, active work was started. The county board called a special session and consented to place the bond issue before the voters. Even then, many felt that the time was too short. The automobile dealers of the county came to the fore and lent their support and finally the Rock County Good Roads association was organized. This group of men waged a campaign, the thoroughness and energy of which will go down in history as one most spectacular, and which will be held up as an example in the nation as that which can be accomplished when earnest men wholeheartedly get back of a movement of incalculable benefit to a community.

Again, we say, Rock county must be congratulated on a great victory.

JANESEVILLE'S VICTORY. The decisive manner in which the citizens of Janesville responded to the call to sanction the progress the city is making along business, industrial and civic lines shows in no unmistakable manner that we are ready for the opportunities which have been placed before us. The vote on the school bond issue removed any doubt that we were not ready to take our place among the cities of the nation, eager and ready to advance under the impetus of prosperity.

Yesterday's election wiped out for ever the old bugaboo which has kept Janesville in the backward class. The community spirit of "all for one and one for all" which has been lacking in past years, shone out with startling brightness as woman after woman, and man after man marched to the voting booths and registered their desire for a bigger and better city.

The voting of the school bonds is both a material and moral victory. It is an indication that when the children's future is at stake, nothing is of more consequence. The new high school is needed and we are going to have it. That is settled for once and all. But the greatest victory is the moral effect the handsome endorsement of the project will have upon the community.

It means that the haunting fear, which has been ever present since the first step was taken in development of the city after the Samson Tractor company and other industries and businesses had chosen this place as their future homes, has been removed. The men who have been back of every forward step can draw a sigh of relief. They can feel that they are not alone in their endeavor to place Janesville at the head of those prosperous cities of the Rock river valley. They will be heartened by the support so generously given by the men and women who with vision cast their ballots to throw off the old yoke of petty jealousy and wage a campaign for a whole community along progressive lines.

The women deserve special praise for the manner in which they swung into line for a better community. Without their support the victory would have been in doubt. But their keen appreciation of the benefits of a better city with modern education facilities urged them to do their share, generously and thoroughly.

The members of the school board, city council and Chamber of Commerce share in the success, for it was through their fair tactics and business-like grasp of the situation that the proposition was put into a form which would meet with the approval of the majority of voters.

WELSH OPPORTUNITY. Thomas E. Welsh has been elected mayor of Janesville. He was given a close run by Henry C. Klein, former fire chief. Mr. Welsh has his opportunity to reflect the sentiment of those who voted for the school bond issue. If he is an astute executive he will take advantage of that opportunity and through his administration carry to fulfillment those projects which loom large as necessary steps in the development of the city.

In his pre-election statement Mr. Welsh declared himself in favor of sane and safe legislation which would promote prosperity. His pronouncements were taken in good faith by those who are back of the community's progress. The men who voted for the school bonds numbered 1,628 for and 1,035 against, which leaves a majority endorsement of 593 votes. This indicates that all the men who voted for the school bonds did not vote for Welsh. Welsh's majority over Klein was 108 votes. Klein did not come out in an avowed statement regarding his stand on development. Those who stood firmly for progress were in the dark as regard his position.

Mr. Welsh has had a change of heart on the school situation. When the matter of making improvements was first brought up several months ago, Welsh was not inclined to favor some of the suggestions which were made for immediate changes for educational facilities and betterment. However, after being shown the light by men who insisted on a clean-cut, progressive policy in regard to schools, Mr. Welsh became a staunch supporter of the movement and must be given credit for his unceasing work in that direction.

Mr. Welsh can win honor as chief executive of this city. He had the courage to come out before election as a candidate who opposed retrogression. He can keep the city clean and wholesome. He can be of great aid in making this one of the most desirable places in the state for men and women to live. He can safeguard those who will have to foot the bills and at the same time stand in the way of any reaction which may threaten.

He has two years in which to measure up to the standard set for the mayor of Janesville. If he avails himself of his opportunities his endorsement for a future term, if he desires the office, will be much stronger. Mr. Welsh is on trial. If he carries out his platform he will maintain the confidence which has been placed in him.

The aldermen who take their places along with Mr. Welsh have the same opportunity to keep us in the foreground of progress. The former incumbents have shown a desire to endorse constructive legislation and with the addition of those new members to the city's administrative body, Janesville should feel gratified at the advance step she has taken.

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE. Job hunting has become acute. The other day a jobless man stood by the river and another man was drowning. The drowning man called for help.

Where do you work?" asked the jobless one.

"Thirty Green St." was the reply. "Go ahead and drown," said the jobless one. "I'll get your job."

He hurried to 30 Green street and said to the proprietor:

"Your man has just drowned."

"I have none for his job."

"Hand me up and give it to me."

The proprietor said calmly:

"You're too late, young man. The guy who pushed him in has got the job."

THREE-ONE BATTLES AND THREE-BUTTONS.

Noted Gunman Makes Good In War

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Camp Upton, N. Y., April 2.—"Monk" Espeyman, gunman, notorious leader of gangsters who once terrified the streets of the East Side, now is Private William Delaney, veteran, back from France with an enviable war record.

He was honorably discharged from the 104th infantry today and within a few days a petition will be forwarded to Gov. Smith signed by his commanding officers, asking that he be restored to citizenship.

"Monk's" life history is the story of a "comeback." In the old days he was an opium addict, burly creature of the slums, with over a "gun" on his hip. In 1917 he finished a term for burglary and in October of that year enlisted, no questions asked.

Intoth war, which made heroes out of cowards, strong men out of weak, went "Monk." When the 27th division took its place in Flanders "Monk" was there. When the New Yorkers swept forward against the Hindenburg line "Monk" was in the first wave.

When comrades fell like stretcher bearers, "Monk" volunteered. When carried to a British hospital wounded in the head while leading a bombing squad into the face of machine guns "Monk" escaped to mount once more the firing step.

These and many more are the facts recounted in the petition signed by Colonel Franklin W. Ward of the 104th and by Major J. Scott Sutson and by Captain James M. Courtney and Lieutenant A. Kerigan. "Monk's" immediate superiors who fought by his side on foreign soil.

Competitive Bidding for Railroad Contracts Urged

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington, April 2.—Railroad administration officials intimated today that a return to the old system of competitive bidding for railroad contracts might be the outcome of the attempt of nine operators to force the administration to pay the same prices for its fuel as the public.

There was no denial that the price settle agreed upon by the operators and the industrial conference board of the department of commerce was not acceptable to the administration.

Director General Hines, just returned from an inspection tour on which he consulted every regional director and federal manager in the United States, began consideration of the controversy immediately, but refused to say anything concerning his plans.

St. Patrick's fast basketball crew defeated the Congregational five, 30 to 11, in a rough game at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Personal trials were frequent in the one-sided game smacked of basketball. Cassidy, star forward for the Catholics, counted two baskets and ten free throws.

The victory tightened St. Patrick's hold on first position and shoves the Congs into a tie for fourth place.

Peterson and Morse starred for the losers, while Kober and Cushing aided Cassidy in putting over the victory.

BAKER ANNOUNCES CASUALTY LISTS ARE NOW NEARING END

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Washington, April 2.—Informally announcing today the discontinuance of the war department's system of telegraphing casualty lists to San Francisco and Chicago for mail distribution by the press associations, Secretary Baker made this statement:

"It is with profound gratitudo that we approach the end of the American expeditionary force casualty lists—gratitudo that the price of victory, in human life and limb was not greater. The war department has been con- solous of the splendid public service the newspaper press has been rendering to the people by the prompt and accurate publication of the casualty lists from day to day, that the supreme sacrifices made by officers and men of our forces abroad might be known to their friends and relatives at home."

"The policy of the war department has been to immediately notify the next of kin by telegraph of any mis- fortune befalling a soldier, but the responsibility of notification extended also to the community, and this has been accomplished through the news papers. To meet the duty of rapid notification the casualty lists have been telegraphed each day by the war department to the postmasters of Chicago, San Francisco, and those government officials, together with the government printing office at Washington, have published the lists which the press associations have furnished to all daily newspapers with them."

GERMANY MENACED
BY GREAT STRIKE

Berlin, April 2.—(via Copenhagen)—Almost all the labor forces of Germany are either striking or threatening to strike as a result of agitations carried on by independent socialists and Spartacists who are continuing in their efforts to induce workers to make increasingly impossible demands.

They have been partially persuaded by mine guards on duty in the county jail for the last two weeks, for burglarizing the bowling alley of Henry Robbins on North Academy street was before Judge Maxfield yesterday afternoon. Sentence was suspended for a period of six months and the lad placed in the custody of a local attorney, who immediately secured a job on a farm for his charge.

Below Your Equator

there is, in the form of the intestinal canal, a wonderful laboratory, within which are manufactured the very materials which are vitally necessary to sustain life, and also violent poisons which directly and indirectly cause disease and death.

Food waste, if allowed to accumulate, stagnates and gives rise to poisonous matter. This, if allowed to be absorbed into the blood, produces 90% of the disease that attacks mankind; from a transient neuralgia to a permanent hardening of the arteries.

Bright's disease, liver trouble, heart enlargement, high blood pressure, skin affections, rheumatism, insomnia, nervous exhaustion, mental affections, all may be caused by such self-poisoning, the warning of which is obstinate or habitual constipation.

Nor is it safe or sufficient to take castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., in the effort to force the bowels to move. Not only will the constipation grow worse with the continuance of such remedies, but the dose must be constantly increased, with an ever-weakening effect.

But Nujol acts differently—and successfully. Nujol is not a drug—does not act like any drug.

Nujol brings about thorough and natural bowel evacuation, at regular intervals, because it helps Nature to restore and to maintain the proper mechanism by which body waste is removed and its stagnation prevented.

Nujol overcomes constipation by removing its causes. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and send coupon for free booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger."

THE HILLS OF TOMORROW.

The hills of tomorrow are waiting for us—a little bit farther to go.

And now as we stand on the peaks today a hint of their beauty we know;

We catch but a glint of the splendor to be with the birth of another new day.

And the joys we shall claim and the goals we shall reach if only we keep on the way.

The hills of tomorrow are calling to us as higher and higher we climb.

We pause in our tents on the peaks of tonight and sweetly we rest for a time.

But the morning shall wake us to the errors they held as slowly we've climbed to the right;

We have changed in our value of silver and gold, to our children new lessons we teach;

For ever we turn from the false to the true as the hills of tomorrow we reach.

things that are new.

We're not what we were when our journey began, we have groped through the ages of might. We have lightened our packs of the errors they held as slowly we've climbed to the right; We have changed in our value of silver and gold, to our children new lessons we teach; For ever we turn from the false to the true as the hills of tomorrow we reach.

IN THE DEPTHS.
As she heard Roy Nicoll enter the afternoon, Janet sprang to her feet and ran blindly for the door. Nicoll caught her gently and kept her.

"Steady, Janet!" he said in a low, level tone. "The passage outside is crowded with noisy, curious people. Walk out with me, as though nothing had happened—and I'll take care of the rest."

In Nicoll's voice was a tremor—for the first time in all the years of his manhood. He did not know himself. He knew only that if he had to look at his woman in such suffering much longer he would go to pieces, as badly as she. She had her face hidden in her hands, as though to shut in the agony of dissolution of nerves and heart she felt.

Roy put her cloak about her and arranged her hair so that it fell over her face almost wholly and gently led her to the car. Past the staring spectators he took her by the rear exit of the hall to his limousine which had been brought round to his orders. As though in a daze, Janet stepped into the car. Nicoll took his place beside her, switched on the lights and drew the curtains close. "To Mrs. Stedman's home!" he said to the chauffeur.

"Janet cried out.
"No! No! I cannot stand it! I'll go mad alone, let me get out!" "Drive around in the park," Nicoll ordered in a low tone.

The car glided off. Janet suddenly and completely broke up. She was shaking with soundless sobs. She shook as though waves of ague passed through her. Nicoll's self-possession left him. He caught her in his arms, trembling almost as uncontrollably as she.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am 20 years old and love to dance. My mother will not consent to my dancing, but I tell her I am going somewhere else and I go to a dance. I only go to private dances, so I don't see why she will not consent. I have to tell her I do nearly every time I go to a dance and she does it.

(2) She also does not allow me to go with fellows as often as I do. Are three dates a week too much for a girl of my age? I go out with very respectable fellows and they all respect me. When I do have a date the fellows all call at my home for me and mother always meets them.

(3) Is she right and I too narrow minded to see her ideas?

BLUE EYES.

(1) Since you see nothing wrong in dancing, I believe it is all right for you to enjoy yourself in that way. The law of the conscience makes dancing all right for you, but wrong for your mother. You are making a mistake, however, by reasoning with her. Stand by your convictions fearlessly, although the results are unpleasant at first. When your mother becomes used to the idea of your dancing she will resign herself and will cease to protest. To deceive such a one's conscience, Don't Do that.

(2) Three engagements a week seem to be a reasonable number, but since your mother objects you should only one who does the work and get an estimate.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a hair switch that has faded until it is lighter than natural hair. Would you please advise how to make the switch a heavy dark brown? A. F. P.

Have your switch professionally dyed. To experiment yourself would spoil your switch. If it is not the right shade it will look worse than none at all.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

FRESH MILK AND SOUND TEETH

It is now known that the healthy, vigorous growth of a baby demands not only adequate proportions of protein, fat and carbohydrate food elements together with adequate proportions of the mineral salts, but also some food factor which has not as yet been chemically identified, but has been given the name of vitamin.

Two substances called respectively "fat-soluble A" and "water-soluble B" are included under the terms vitamins.

Fresh milk, unpasteurized, unchanged in any way by heating above the body temperature, supplies vitamins to the baby. Fresh milk, cream and butter are the ideal and most available sources of "fat-soluble A" for every child. Pure, clean, fresh milk is the diet of a child who has not yet started to possibly afford to feed each child less than a pint of fresh milk every day.

Children are young animals—we are all animals physiologically. If young animals are kept on a diet which contains insufficient proportions of "fat-soluble A," that is insufficient butter fat, the result is invariably poorly developed teeth and deformed teeth. The "fat-soluble A" in fresh milk, butter or cream, then, is indispensable for calcium (lime) metabolism. Rickets is inherently a failure of lime metabolism. The chief element of lime is lime.

Cod liver oil, which enjoys and well merits a great reputation as a remedy for rickets, is rich in "fat-soluble A." Chicken livers, organ, fish livers, and fat about the kidneys, are rich in "fat-soluble A." Other fats usually included in the diet of adult persons are poor in this vitamin.

When the quantity of "fat-soluble A" is insufficient for the child's requirements, the usual results observed are: (1) delayed loss of the primary teeth; (2) delayed cutting of the permanent teeth; (3) irregularity in the position of the teeth, especially the

QUESTION AND ANSWERS

SCHOOL GIRL STAR

Please tell me what would be good for my complexion. I wish to have a beautiful complexion. (School girl.)

ANSWER—There is one unbreakable prescription. It is an hour in the school gymnasium every day.

SOME OLD MOTHERS

But there is one question on which mother and daughter differ, that is having the windows in my bedroom open at night. She insists that it is sufficient to air the room well in the daytime, but that the windows must be closed at night to exclude drafts so that I shall not take cold. Is she right? (Bertha.)

ANSWER—No. Bertha, she is terribly wrong. No mother can think as highly of fresh air as young people do; their education has taught them to fear it. Let mother have her way. But after she has retired, shake the windows open and enjoy the air.

FEAR

Please mention places where one may reasonably expect to find relief from hay fever. (Miss D. P. D.)

ANSWER—The diagnosis depends on the specific character of the pollinosis in a given case. Pollen which may be accountable for your hay fever may give no trouble to a hay fever patient in another case, and vice versa. In general these places are comparatively free from hay fever: Duluth, Minn.; Bethlehem, New Hampshire; Thousand Islands; Bear River, Nev.; The Rockies, Mont.; Two Rivers, Wis.; the coast of southern Florida; Moosehead Lake, Maine; San Antonio, Texas; the Black Mountains, N. C.

DESSERT

Eggless Lemon Pie—Four tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, three-quarter cup sugar, a few grains salt, one half cup evaporated milk, one and one-half cups water, one-half cup flour.

Put milk and water on to boil. Mix flour with cold water until smooth, add to boiling milk; boil five minutes; add lemon juice and rind, sugar and salt; boil one minute. Use pieplate with dough; pour in mixture; brush top crust with cold milk. Make a few cuts on top crust. Bake in bottom of oven 25 minutes or until browned nicely. The crust is made the same as usual.

Pineapple Sago—Two cups pineapple, or one can sliced pineapple, one can sago, one half cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon lemon juice or one-half cup grape juice.

Wash the sago and soak in four cups cold water two hours. Put on in same water and boil very slowly two hours, or until clear, stirring occasionally. Add sugar, salt and lemon

EVERYBODY'S BUSY.

We were speaking of a certain woman who lives the year round in boarding houses, and who has no work of any sort, and no family or other responsibilities.

"How heavy time must hang on her hands," said one of the speakers, a busy mother of three small children.

Another member of the group who once lived at the same boarding house as the subject of our discussion, laughed. "My dear," she said, "she wouldn't think so. She is a busy mother of three small children."

"Last winter I met a woman who had given up her personal maid as a war economy. She lives in an apartment hotel and has absolutely no cares except to look after the comfort of her husband, an extremely busy man. Let her think that just

Other Women's Odd Jobs Are Her Whole Occupation.

"Oh, I don't know, writing a few letters, watering her plants, ironing out some handkerchiefs, sewing on a fresh collar—I suppose. The sort of things I do after my family has gone to bed."

"What on earth would she do if she had my family to look after?" demanded the mother of three. "If she calls just looking after herself being busy, what would she do if she had to look after four people besides herself, and two of them small children?"

"I guess she'd just give up," I volunteered.

"She'd find a way."

And then the lady who always knows, somehow, spoke up. "No, she wouldn't. She'd find a way to do it if she had to. It's not what we can do, but what we have to do."

"She never let a cold or case of gripe go until it grew dangerous. She just nipped it when she began to sniffle or cough before it developed seriously."

The intimate article of dress known as the corset which the majority of women wear but know very little about

Alice S. Cutler, M.D.

IN this pertinent way the well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M.D., describes the most important garment in the wardrobe of women.

"Buy your corset carefully," warns Dr. Cutler. "No one wants to be ill, and when women realize that the constant wearing of an ill-fitting corset helps to keep our hospitals open they will insist on being properly fitted to corsets instead of buying them hit or miss."

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets, the original front-lacing corsets, as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Every Gossard Corset is hygienically correct. If properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed, and carefully adjusted each time it is worn, it will mould that figure to the ideal proportions of its type. It will give a priceless all-day comfort. It will safeguard the wearer against those bodily ailments that are often the result of improper corsetry. It will render a wearing service that alone is worth the price paid for the garment.

If possible, the new Spring and Summer Gossards are superior to those of the past season, which were generally acknowledged to be without equal in meeting the needs of active womanhood from the standpoint of comfort, hygiene, wear and figure improvement.

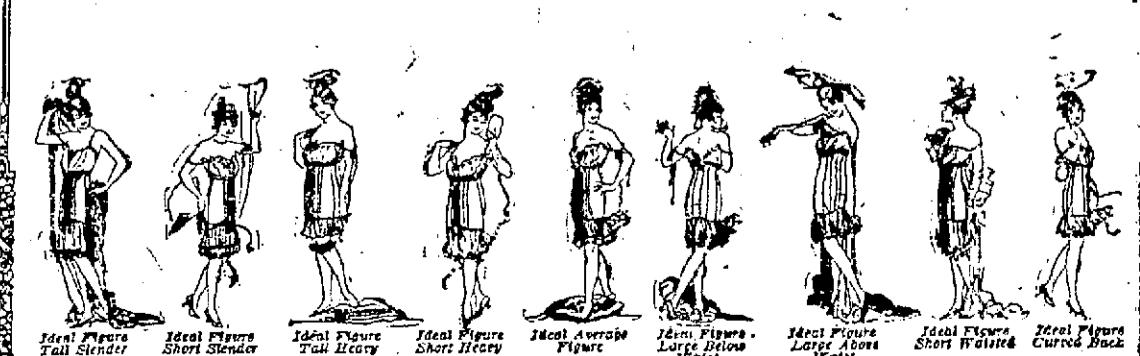

Our highly specialized fitted service reflects our sincere appreciation of the important relation a correctly fitted corset bears to your health, and to that perfect figure poise that gives the elusive charm of style.

"Stand by, all hands," I cried desperately. "We'll board whether they want us or not. Slip across, Miss Fairfax, out of the way. Now, Watkins, run us in under those fore-chains; easy man, don't let her strike us. Lay hold quick, lads, and hang on for your lives. Give me that end of rope—ready now, all of you; I'll make the leap. Now then—hold hard!"

It was five feet, and up, my purchase the tossing boat, but I made it, one hand desperately gripping a shroud, until I gained balance and was flung lobeard by a sharp plunge of the vessel. My head was at a level with the rail, yet I saw nothing, my whale effort being to make fast before the grip of the men should be torn loose. This done, I glanced back into the upturned faces below.

"Hand in slowly, lads; yes, let go, the rope will hold, and the boat ride safely through. Let a couple of men come up till we see what's wrong with the hooker—the rest of you trail out. Let Schmitt and Sam come with me."

I helped them clamber up and then lifted my body onto the rail, from which position I had a clear view of the forward deck. It was inexpressibly dirty, yet otherwise ship-shape enough. Nothing human grieved me, and conscious of a strange feeling of horror, I slipped over onto the deck. The next moment the negro and Dutchman joined me, the former staring about wildly, the whites of his eyes reverting his terror.

"My Gaud, sah," he ejaculated. "Ah done know dis boat—it's shore de Santa Marie. Ah's cooked in dat galley. She was a slaver, sah." He sniffed the air. "A kin smell dem niggers right now, sah. Ah suh reckon das a bunch o' dead ones under dem hatches right dis minute."

Schmitt's hand fell heavily on my sleeve and I glanced into his stolid face.

"I just bet I know what was der trouble."

"What, man?"

"Cholera," he whispered; "we has boarded a death ship."

CHAPTER XXVII.

On Board the Slave.

The terror of the two men as this thought dawned upon them in all its horror was apparent enough. Nothing, not even fire, was more to be dreaded than a visitation of this awful nature on shipboard. Cholera! though this might be, it was safer by far than the cockleshell towing alongside.

"Let's find out the truth first, men," I said quietly. "Hold your tongues. There is no use giving up until we know what the danger is. Will you come with me?"

The terror in Sam's eyes caused me to laugh and my own courage came back with a rush.

"Afraid of dead men, are you? Then we'll face them together, my lads, and have it over with. Come on, now, both of you. Buckle up; there is nothing to fear, if you do what I tell you—this isn't the first cholera ship I've been aboard."

It was no pleasant job confronting us, although we had less dead men to handle than I anticipated. Indeed, we found only five bodies on board. There were only two on deck, a giant, coal-black negro, and a gray-headed white man, his face pitted with smallpox. Determined on what was to be done, I wasted no time with either body. The two sailors hung back, terrorized by the mere thought of touching these victims of plague. I steered myself to the job and handled them alone, dragging the bodies across the deck and launching them over the low rail into the sea. I ordered Schmitt to cut the lashings and take charge of the wheel.

"See here, Sam, and you too, Schmitt, I am in love with that girl in the boat. Do you suppose I would ever have her come on this deck if I believed she might contract cholera?"

You do as I say and you are perfectly safe. Now, Schmitt, remain at the wheel, and you, Sam, come with me. There will be a dead nigger aboard unless you jump when I speak."

He trotted close at my heels as I opened the door leading into the cabin. The air seemed fresh enough and I noted two of the ports wide open. A tall, smooth-shaven man, with an ugly scar down one cheek, lay stretched on a divan at the foot of the after mast, his very posture proclaiming him dead. His face was the color of parchment, wrinkled with age.

The negro crept up behind me and stared at the upturned face.

"My Gaud, sah, he was de ol' captain. Parada, sah; damn his soul!"

In what was evidently the captain's room I discovered a picked chart and log-book, with no entry for it for three days. Without waiting to examine these I stowed them away in my pocket. Between us we forced the stiffened form of the captain through the open after port and heard it splash into the sea astern. There were two dead seamen in the forecastle, both swarthy fellows, with long Indian hair. I never saw a dirtier hole, the filth overpowering, and once satisfied that both men were beyond help, I was content to lower the scuttle and leave them there. God! it was a relief to return once more to the open deck and breathe in the fresh air. I hailed the boat towing below.

"Come aboard, Watkins," I called sharply. "Pass the lady up first, and turn the boat adrift."

I caught Dorothy's hands and aided her over the rail.

"Why was the vessel abandoned?" she asked. "What has happened? Do you know?"

Quietly I told her the truth and assured her that if we staid on deck and used our own bedding and provisions we were in no danger.

"How can I help you?"

"Tell the men just what I have told you," I said gravely. "They will be ashamed to show less courage than you."

We turned and faced them together as they formed a little group against the rail. Ballin was first to speak.

"What was eat you say 'bout dis sheep? Eat her cholera—hey?"

Dorothy took a step forward, and confronted them.

"You are sailors," she said, speaking swiftly, "and ought not to be afraid if a girl isn't. It is true this vessel was ravaged by cholera, and the crew died:

but the bodies have been flung overboard—Captain Carlyle risked his life to do that before he asked us aboard. Now there is no danger so long as we remain on deck. I have no fear."

The Swede shook his head, grumbling something, but before the revolt could spread Watkins broke in.

"An' that's right, miss. I was on the Bonny Castle when she took cholera, an' we hed twenty-one days of it. heatin' a'kin head winds off the Cape. We lost sixteen o' the crew, but not a man among us who stayed on deck got sick. Anyhow, these jakes are gold' sick. Tryer try their luck aboard yore, er else swim fer it."

He grinned cheerfully, letting slip the end of the painter, the released quarter-boat gliding gently away astern, the width of water constantly increasing.

"Now, bullies, jump fer it if yer want ter go. All right then, my hearties, let's hunt up something to work with and scrub this deck. That's the way to clean out cholera."

He led the way and they followed him, grumbling and cursing, but obedient. I added a word of encouragement, and in a few minutes the whole gang was busily engaged in cleaning up the mess forward, their first fears evidently forgotten in action. Watkins kept after them like a slave driver.

It was not difficult finding plenty for the lads to do, making the neglected schooner shipshape, and adjusting the spread of canvas aloft to the new course I decided upon. Sam started a fire in the galley and prepared a hot meal, singing as he worked, and before noon I had as cheerful a ship's crew forward as any man could possibly ask for. Dorothy and I glanced over the log, but gained little information. As the sun reached the meridian I ventured again into the cabin and returned with the necessary instruments to determine our position. With these and the picked chart, I managed fairly well in determining our location, and choosing the most direct course toward the coast.

Dinner Stories

A very absent-minded young professor recently took unto himself a wife, and for some time she evinced no signs of uneasiness with respect to their future happiness. One afternoon, however, when he was leaving for a short trip she signed and said to him: "I'm afraid darling, that you will very soon forget me."

"How can you think so, my dear?" the professor rejoined. "Seel! I have tied two knots to my handkerchief!"

Mrs. Ladybird was very proud of her feet. They were carrying her very rapidly at this juncture towards a boot establishment. On making known her requirements, an assistant brought out a selection of shoes for her to try on.

"That's strange, madam," said he, after many vain attempts to fit her. "One of your feet is larger than the other."

This was too much for his customer. Biting his lip rage, Mrs. Ladybird left the store and sought another, but here again no goods displayed proved entirely satisfactory.

"How curious, madam," exclaimed the assistant, at length. "One of your feet is much smaller than the other."

And, with a beaming smile, Mrs. Ladybird bought two most expensive pairs.

"Pa," said Tommy Twaddles, "this boy says that Orpheus was such a bad musician that he made trees and stones move."

"Our sister, Teresa can beat Orpheus any day," grumbled Pa Twaddles. "Her piano playing has made twenty families move out of this block in the last two months."

When you use Benetol as your morning mouth wash and gargle, you will strongly urge your dentist to use it as a part of it. This will minimize stomach and bowels, prevent stomach trouble, cure dyspepsia, indigestion, gas on the stomach and ulceration of the stomach.

In fact, the more you use Benetol products, the more you will use them as being far superior to any others.

Once used, Benetol Gargant will convince you that nothing has ever equalled this preparation as a tonic for the skin. It is an absolute physical impossibility for a man to contract "Barber's itch" or any other contagious skin disease if he uses "Benetol" or "Benetol Ointment."

Try these suggestions—ring your mouth—gargle and swallow—"Benetol." You will feel so clean—so sterilized—so antiseptically clean—that you will never go back to the old way.

Full directions for the use of these articles packed in every carton.

CAUTION: Always insist that your druggist supply you with Benetol in the original red cartons.

Do You Realize the Benefits and Delights of a Proper Morning Toilette?

Try These Special Suggestions.

A few moments spent each morning in the proper care of the mouth, throat and nasal passages will go far toward making the entire day more pleasant and more comfortable, but will not only make you more attractive, but will protect you from all manner of germ contagion, such as colds and grippe, as well as the more dangerous contagious diseases.

Try these suggestions for even two or three mornings, and you will find them so beneficial and pleasant that you will surely wish to continue.

When you first arise, go into the bathroom and bathe, as is your usual custom. Then, cleanse your teeth with Benetol. There is nothing on earth equal to Benetol for the mouth that is really antiseptic and germoidal. Others claim to be, but they cannot show any real germoidal strength.

Now put from 12 to 20 drops of Benetol in a glass and fill it with hot water. With this rinse your mouth and gargle your throat, pressing it to the roof of the mouth. Rinse this out further by about 4 to 5. With this, either use a moist toothbrush and brush it up your nose to clear out all the accumulated phlegm and catarrhal inflammation.

Across the Pleasant Meadow grass
With birds in love to pass;
They tickle all the caftails till
They almost fall into the rill.
And every now and then they tell
Old Mrs. Cow to ring her bell.

Now, before I commence this story,

I'll explain right away that the "rill" I speak of in this little verse is the Babbling Brook, only "brook" doesn't rhyme with "hill," which is the reason I used that word.

"Ha, ha!" laughed Little Billy Bunny, as Mrs. Cow shook her head. "I speak of the Babbling Brook, only 'brook' doesn't rhyme with 'hill,' which is the reason I used that word."

"I saw Tommy Turtle just now," said the little duck. "He's very proud, for Mrs. Turtle has laid some eggs in a hole in the ground which she covered up with dirt, and he says pretty soon there will be some little turtles just like himself."

JANESVILLE SWEPT BY SPIRIT OF BASEBALL

(By K. L. EAGON)
With the Janesville baseball team tentatively picked, players of every type and for every point on the dial were shown up Tuesday and Wednesday, asking for a try out.

There are half a dozen who claim to have the art of pitching down to a science, who will be given a try out at practice, which starts promptly at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday evening, at the Fair Grounds, and will continue until 8:30 p. m.

All You Players

All those who have been tentative assigned to the regular lineup and whose names in the lineup in Tuesday's Gazette MUST be at the Fair Grounds not later than 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Captain Schauer and Manager Eagon will be at the diamond shortly after 6 o'clock and all those players who can reach the grounds at 6 or shortly thereafter should do so, to enable play to begin in time for a scrub game before darkness sets in.

Only Temporarily Signed

Every player who has been temporarily accepted in the lineup must understand that he is only tentatively a regular—and that it is up to him to produce. Until the team is a stable, established organization, he will remain captain and players will report to him and be assigned by him. Manager Eagon has found Schauer a level-headed, capable man, and as long as he maintains these capabilities he will be retained. Later, a meeting of all players, and all officials interested in the Janesville club, at which a captain will be elected by a vote.

To Put up Real Team

A conference was held today at which it was decided to continue the temporary arrangement for two or three weeks—and then bring a couple of professional pitchers—capable of meeting the first Deloit team—and an inferior or two, to Janesville.

Efforts, too, have been made by the writer to land Janesville a berth in the Chitlum Wisconsin league, and a franchise may be obtained. If so, no pains will be spared to give Janesville a money.

Play at 2:30 Sunday

The tentative Janesville club has accepted the challenge of the Woolen Mills baseball aggregation for a practice game Sunday afternoon. The game will be played at Fair Grounds diamond. Play will begin at 2:30 p. m., but both teams will take the field in, but both teams will take the field for practice promptly at 1:30. There will be no charge of admission, and everyone, especially the ladies, are invited. The grand stand will be put in condition before Sunday, and there is plenty of room.

Berger or Bick will probably twirl for the Janesville club, with Kakuske and Pierson in reserve, although he has not been definitely decided upon.

Kellefer Heads Cubs

Chicago, April 2.—Catcher William Kellefer of the Chicago Nationals, who rose to the rank of sergeant in the army, will discard that title for the captaincy of the Cubs this season, Manager Fred Mitchell, in making the appointment, said that Kellefer deserved the honor because of his splendid work last season in aiding the Cubs to win the national league championship. Kellefer will direct the play on the field this season.

MADDEN RE-ENTERS THOROUGHBRED GAME

John E. Madden.

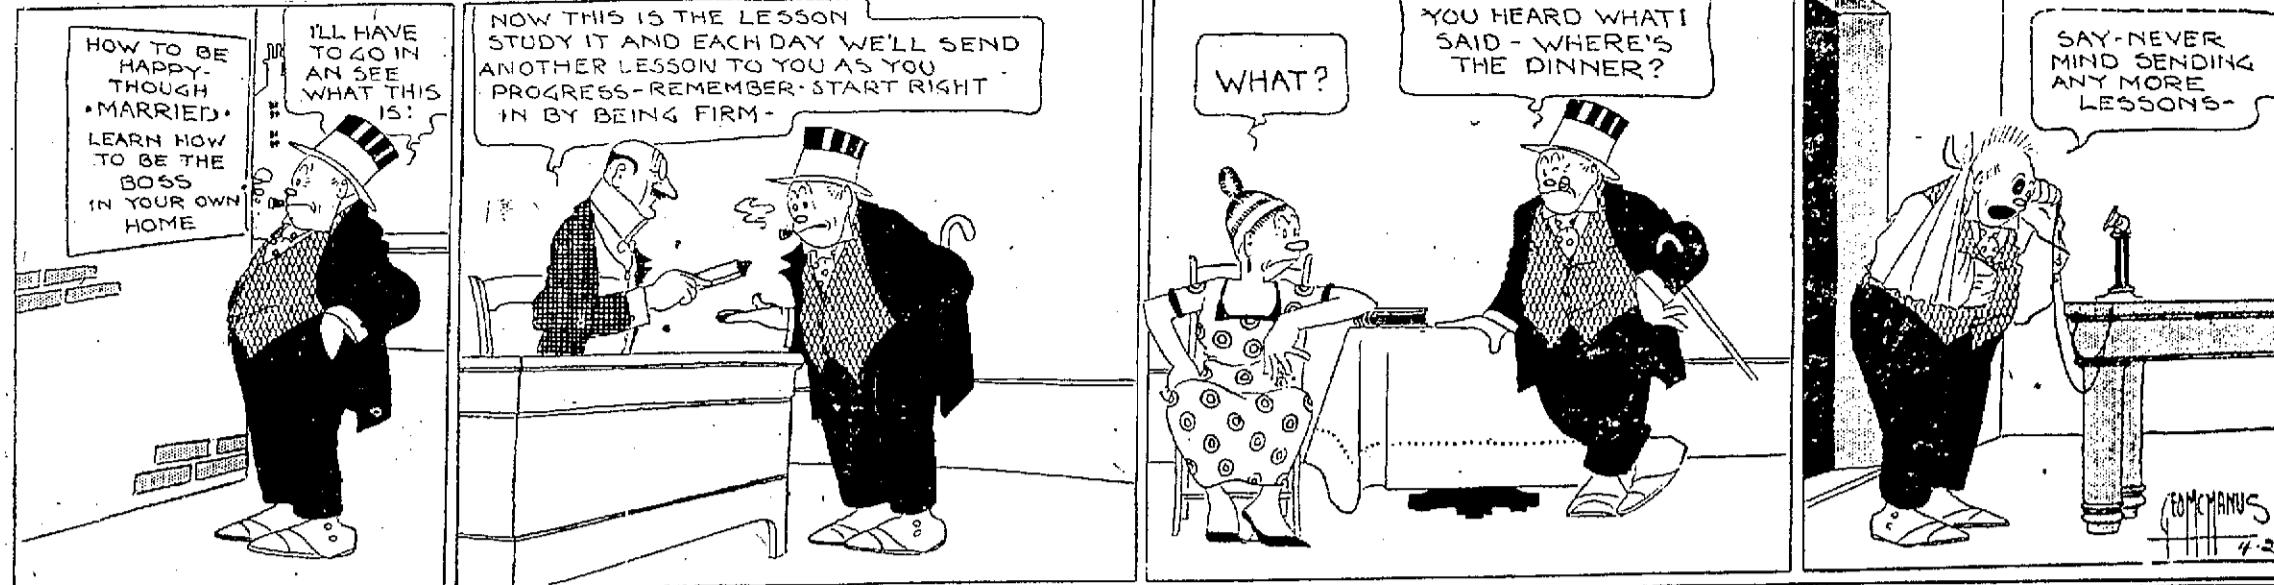

According to reports from the east John E. Madden, famous Kentucky horseman who disposed of his stable during the war, has re-entered the sport again. Madden is one of the pioneers in the game. He broke into the limelight in 1887 when he gave Class Leader a record of 2:22%.

GOM Interest Grows

Indianapolis, April 2.—Interest in golf in Indiana and especially Indianapolis has been greatly heightened by the decision of the executive committee of the Central Golf Association to hold its third tournament over the course of the Audubon Country Club at Indianapolis during the week of June 2. Because of the war, the meets were called off in 1917 and 1918. The association is composed of clubs in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois. The first tournament was held in 1915 at Toledo and the 1916 meet was held in Indianapolis.

Swimming is Added

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 2.—Swimming is added to athletics at the University of Michigan this year, with indications that a strong team will be assembled. Fred Schaefer, who figured prominently in other branches of sports at the school.

Lack of a swimming pool in Waterman gymnasium has prevented Michigan from indulging in the water sports, but space has been found for a natatorium in the Michigan Union building, and work on it is already under way.

Britton to Meet Downey

Columbus, O., April 2.—Jack Britton, the new welterweight champion, will meet Bryan Downey, of Columbus, in a twelve round contest at Canton, O., April 7. Canton was the scene of Britton's recent triumph over Ted Lewis, who held the welter-weight title.

Mies to Get Toyont

Louisville, Ky., April 2.—Mollie Mies, a corporal in the army, formerly a pitcher for the Mobile club of the Southern Association, will be given a try out with the Louisville American Association team, at its training camp at Dawson Springs, Ky. Mies, who is stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor, expects to be discharged shortly.

Ferdie Schupp Signs

Louisville, Ky., April 2.—Ferdinand Schupp of Louisville, star southpaw twirler of the New York Nationals in 1917, has signed a contract and has gone to the Giants training camp at Gainseville, Fla. Schupp was a hold-out. He objected to a cut in salary, but reached an adjustment with Manager McGraw on a basis which was not disclosed. Physically he is in excellent condition, and he has recovered the use of his pitching arm which became impaired last season.

Puryear and Wolfe

Peoria, Ill., April 2.—Earl Puryear, the Denver bantamweight, will box Jack Wolfe, of Cleveland, in a ten round contest here April 8. Puryear will face a weight disadvantage of three of four pounds, as the Cleveland boxer declined to do better than 119 pounds at 2 o'clock.

Return Contest Planned

Milwaukee, Wis., April 2.—Solly Burns, the Pacific coast lightweight, who obtained a newspaper decision over Ritchie Mitchell in Rock Island a year ago, will meet the Milwaukeean in a return contest here April 4. Burns was substituted for Joe Rivers, who was denied a permit to box by the state athletic commission.

SPORT SERIAL

(By K. L. EAGON)

One thing must be made unmistakably plain. No rowdiness or indifference will be tolerated for a second in the new Janesville baseball team. At the first signs that a player is not 100% willing for the team, or tries to play politics, he will be given his unconditional release. Some of the younger players—some of whom will be sorely disappointed—seem to feel that they ought to be represented in the management of the team. They are to be sorely disappointed.

E. F. Eldred of Albany, Wis., who has pitched professional ball in both of the big leagues and in only last week received his honorable discharge from the army, has written a letter to the writer, saying that he would be glad to pitch for Janesville. We sure will go after this bird. Eldred can be remembered as beating some of the best in the big leagues before he linked up with Uncle Sam, and he looks like the logical bird to trim Jimmy Scott.

The first real challenge of the season showed up this morning in a letter from E. W. Gavin, manager of the Milwaukee All-Stars, who has had on of two successes. His season's intermission and wants to take us on. The Milwaukee All-Stars have quite a rep., but we will take them on in a few weeks. They have some former big league players and should draw a record crowd at the Fair grounds.

Boys, we gotten hand to Captain Schauer. The well known and equally prominent captain broad lined in the Gazette of yesterday afternoon, with a brand new league ball (worth two lead men) and a couple of bats that would make Ty Cobb envious. Fine biz!

We want a big crowd at the Fair grounds Sunday afternoon. Practice will start promptly at 1:30 p. m., and the game with the Woolen Mills will be called at 3:30. Nine full innings of baseball will be played, unless the Woolen Mills team quits, or fails to show. In which case, the Janesville Regulars will tackle the Scrubs.

Altogether, there now are between twenty and thirty prospective players for the Janesville team. All will go given plenty of opportunity to show their capabilities, and the best men will be given regular berths.

The writer has received letters of commendation from all parts of the city and county, declaring strongly for the new Janesville baseball team. If we produce, we will grab a berth for Janesville in the Class C league, next year, probably the Three I.

Haven't decided as yet what to name the team. Send in your suggestion.

SEEKS SPOT WHERE BROWN AND KILBANE CAN MIX IT UP

(By KID BIFF)

Man is always fond of seeing his prognostications work out.

And that is the reason Al. Lippe, well known Philadelphiaistic impresario and manager of Frankie Brown, New York featherweight, is so busy trying to find a spot where Brown and Kilbane may hook up with the 122 pound ring title at stake.

A few weeks ago, Brown beat Kilbane in a six-round mill in Philadelphia. In one of the rounds, Brown hoisted the champion, after wading in and taking Kilbane's best punches, then shooting a straight right hand wallop to the champion's chin. Kilbane seemed wild and his judgment of distance was awry.

Enter Lippe's Interest

Here's where Lippe's great interest comes in. When Kilbane defeated Abe Attel for the featherweight championship seven years ago, Lippe was in charge of Attel's affairs. Kilbane beat Attel via the outpointing route. It was one of those fast battles where little claret is spilled, because both lads were light but rapid punchers.

After that Attel-Kilbane mill, Lippe was down-hearted and declared with marked vehemence that he would dig up a lad who would beat Kilbane for the title and beat him with a knockout, as all champions should be beaten.

Has Been Sawing Wood

Since that assertion was made, Lippe has been sawing wood. He has made several 122 pound batters, but none of them would do. In Frankie Brown he thinks he has the one lad who is capable of making good, and now is seeking for a promoter to stage a show.

Kilbane's Defeat

Milwaukee, Wis., April 2.—Solly Burns, the Pacific coast lightweight, who obtained a newspaper decision over Ritchie Mitchell in Rock Island a year ago, will meet the Milwaukeean in a return contest here April 4. Burns was substituted for Joe Rivers, who was denied a permit to box by the state athletic commission.

WASHINGTON GETS WESTERN LEAGUE AND NAVY STAR

Ike Davis.

Ike Davis, shortstop of Frank Minnelli's Wichita Western league club before the war, will have a try in major league company with the Washington Senators after nearly two years of constant play with the Balboa Park naval training station championship team at San Diego, Cal. Davis' home is in San Diego, and it was quite natural and convenient for him to join up with the navy station there. The Washington contract he had in his pocket when he entraught for the training camp at Augusta the other day is attributed to his development in the navy's year around play. He is about as fast as they get in fielding and if he finds cause for worry it will more likely come from big league pitching than fielding competition.

All American women working with the army of occupation in the bridge-head district, Coblenz, must be billeted under the American Y. W. C. A. Chester county, Pa., has two women centenarians, Mrs. Ann Hastings and Mrs. Julia Walter, 106 and 104, respectively.

Lewis Picks on Olin

Kansas City, Mo., April 2.—The three hottest hours of the day—10:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. have been appropriated to the players of the Kansas City team of the American Association for their workout by Manager John Cangel.

Of the nineteen men who will be in the Blues uniform for the training period nine will have come from the 1918 pennant winners. According to predictions, the 1918 infield will be intact. Becker and Good are slated for the outfield, but the other positions are still to be determined. Under contract are Johnny Brock, Mickey Luton, John Roycroft and Paul Hoskinson.

Strangler" Lewis of Lexington, Ky., will meet John Olin, the giant Finn in a wrestling match to a finish here April 4.

Eddie to Meet Herman

Minneapolis, Minn., April 2.—John Eddie, the St. Paul bantamweight, will meet Pete Herman of New Orleans, the bantamweight champion in ten round contests here Monday. April 21. Eddie is training faithfully and critics are of the opinion that he has shown rapid improvement in his boxing.

The work of the women's division of the federal employment service will be carried on by the Y. W. C. A.

until congress provides an appropriation.

DRYS WILL DEMAND QUICK ACTION ON STATE LEGISLATION

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

Madison, April 2.—With the return of the legislature here on Tuesday the Wisconsin anti-saloon league will demand that immediate consideration be given to the pending legislation for the enforcement of "dry" territory in Wisconsin. Two bills to accomplish this purpose are pending in the lower house, and one in the senate. The Metcalfe bill, which is favored by the "wets," would permit the manufacture of 10 per cent beer in Wisconsin. The Bennett bill which has been offered in the senate would prohibit the manufacture of any beer containing more than one per cent alcohol. A new bill by the committee on state affairs is more lenient than the Bennett bill in many of its provisions.

Superintendent R. P. Hutton of the Anti-Saloon League's statement issued today says that no person connected with the organization will be a candidate as "dry" commissioner of Wisconsin, an officer proposed in the Bennett and State Affairs committee bills for enforcement of "dry" laws. Simultaneously comes the announcement that the Anti-Saloon organization will back the new state affairs prohibition bill.

Some relaxation is provided by the new state affairs prohibition bill, as compared with the Bennett bill, but the new measure, nevertheless, has teeth, according to the proponents of a liberal construction of the prohibitory amendment.

Tapers may find consolation in a clause which permits residents to harbor liquor acquired before the enactment of the law for the individual use of the owner. All amounts in excess of 10 gallons, however, must be reported to the excise commissioner before March 10, 1920. The excise commissioner and his deputies may examine, under oath, any person they suspect of having knowledge of any violation of the act. Any person so examined is required to sign on a sheet a statement containing all or part of his testimony. Failure is a misdemeanor punishable by a $500 fine or a thirty-day jail sentence. The excise commissioner, who will be chief enforcement officer, will receive $5,000 salary. His bond will be $50,000. His deputies are exempt from civil service.

$5,000 From Druggists

Druggists, who will be legal distributing agents of alcohol, will be required to furnish a $5,000 bond. Alcohol may be obtained from them for lawful purposes on affidavit. Physicians must give bonds for $1,000. Prescriptions are limited to one pint. Each physician must keep a record showing the date, amount to whom issued, disease or malady for which prescribed, result of investigation of the prescribed, directions, use of liquor with the amount and frequency of the dose, the address to whom addressed and the number of prescriptions for alcohol issued to the same person for four months prior. This record is open to inspection by all police officers and must be filed with the county clerk and the excise commissioner.

TWO ATTACKS AGAINST ALLIES ARE REPULSED

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Archangel, April 2.—Forces again attacked the allied positions along the railway near Ogozierskia and also made an assault against the lines east of Bolshevik Ozeri yesterday, but at both places were repulsed.

Along the railway front the enemy struck from the right flank but was met by such a severe fire from machine guns and artillery that he speedily retired with heavy losses.

In the attack on the railway lines, the Bolsheviks succeeded for a short time in cutting telephonic communication to the allied outposts along the front at a point about two miles east of that village and twelve miles west of Ogozierskia, but were later driven off.

The enemy is apparently striving to take Ogozierskia before the winter, which is rapidly approaching, making the roads impassable and compelling him to withdraw from Bolshevik Ozeri, which is a long way from the Bolshevik base with which it is connected only by a road, virtually useless in the spring.

Along the Dvina and Vega fronts the situation is reported unchanged.

Barcelona Now Quiet; Theatres Are Re-opened

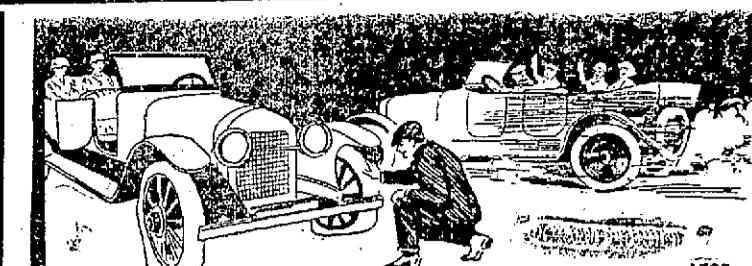

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Barcelona, Spain, April 2.—This is quiet, theaters and moving picture houses have been re-opened and the food supply has been returned to normal. The Spanish cruiser Esparanza and a torpedo boat are anchored in the port.

INCREASE IN UNEMPLOYMENT.
Washington, D. C., a slight increase in unemployment was shown by reports for the last week.

Two Men Killed When Press Mill Blows Up

Pecoria, Ill., April 2.—Two men were killed this morning when a press mill of the Western Powder company's plant at Edwards Station, 14 miles west of Pecoria, blew up. The dead: Kelly Hines and George Krause. The mill was completely destroyed.

The robins, the pussy-willows, the brighter days, all mean only one thing—Spring is with us in all her cheerfulness. Men's woolens and patterns will be revealed to you Saturday. The styles are so much handsoomer than anything you have ever seen in past years. The government has lifted all restrictions. Our designers have exceeded all their previous efforts. You can choose from styles that last season we thought would be impossible. Fabrics in their varieties of browns, blues, grays, tans, and greens are tastefully combined into checks, plaids and novelties. Your selection will be entirely a matter of "WHICH ONE" AND NOT "IS THERE ONE HERE I LIKE?"

The time to select your new Spring Suit or Overcoat is
